

Gold and silver you should have

Savers still have a hard time. Investments in precious metals or precious metal companies are a good option.

Several key interest rate increases have left clear traces, at least when it comes to the interest customers have to pay at banks. In the case of call money accounts, many bank customers still come away empty-handed, as many banks still pay no interest at all or very little. So it is only a small departure from the zero interest rates recognizable. New customers usually have it better, because they often get higher interest rates than existing customers. But even the interest rates, if you get them, don't help against inflation. In February, inflation in the euro zone was 8.5 percent higher than in the same month last year. So the ECB's two percent target is still a long way off. The fact that money is becoming worth less and less due to high inflation is therefore a fact. Even though investments in equities involve a higher risk, they promise higher returns.

Not only gold but also silver companies should be shortlisted. Recently, the Silver Institute commented on silver. Silver not only as a physical asset, as a major industrial metal, no, silver was an important accessory at Paris Fashion Week. For 2023, the Silver Institute expects a healthy demand for silver jewelry. Silver is increasingly being purchased by younger people. Last year, jewelry demand accounted for approximately 29 percent of the global silver market. Currently, the silver price has recovered.

Those speculating on companies with silver in their projects should take a look at Tier One Silver - <https://www.commodity-tv.com/play/silver-special-supply-and-demand-out-of-balance/> -, for example. In Peru, the main project Curibaya is located, which can score with very good drilling results.

If you are more inclined towards gold investments, take a look at Condor Gold - <https://www.commodity-tv.com/ondemand/companies/profil/condor-gold-plc/> . Three projects in Nicaragua are part of the company's portfolio. Currently, Condor Gold is in sales negotiations for its assets.
